

Huddle App Privacy Policy

Last updated: March 16, 2026

Huddle (“we,” “us,” or “our”) operates the Huddle mobile application and related services designed to support the physical, spiritual, social, and mental well-being of men (the “App” or “Service”). This Privacy Policy explains how we collect, use, disclose, and protect your personal data when you use Huddle, in line with applicable data protection laws, including the EU/EEA General Data Protection Regulation (“GDPR”), the UK GDPR and Data Protection Act 2018, and relevant U.S. privacy laws.

By downloading, accessing, or using Huddle, you acknowledge that you have read and understood this Privacy Policy. If you do not agree, please do not use the App.

1. Who We Are (Data Controller)

The data controller responsible for your personal data is:

Holy Impact Publishing / The Huddle App
Email: holyimpactmovement@gmail.com

If you are located in the EU/EEA or UK, and we are required to appoint an EU/UK representative or Data Protection Officer (DPO), we will provide those contact details here once appointed.

2. Information We Collect

We may collect the following categories of personal data when you use Huddle:iubenda+1

2.1 Information You Provide Directly

- Account information (such as name, username, email address, password).
- Profile details (such as age range, city, interests, spiritual background, fitness goals, and other optional details you choose to share).
- Content you submit, including:
 - Dietary logs (meals, nutrition notes, eating habits you record).
 - Fitness logs (workouts, exercises, activity notes, physical goals).
 - Journal entries (reflections, thoughts, personal notes, self-assessments).
 - Prayer entries (prayer requests, answered prayers, spiritual reflections).
- Communication with us (support requests, feedback, survey responses, and email correspondence).

2.2 Information Collected Automatically

When you access or use the App, we may automatically collect:[\[usercentrics\]](#)

- Device information (device type, operating system, unique device identifiers).
- Usage data (features used, screens viewed, dates and times of activity, time spent, in-app actions).
- Log and diagnostic data (IP address, app errors, performance data).

2.3 Special Categories and Sensitive Data

Some information you provide—such as faith-related details, spiritual reflections, and health-related logs (dietary and fitness information)—may be considered “special category” or sensitive personal data under EU/UK law. We only process this data with your explicit consent and solely to provide the wellness and spiritual features you choose to use in the App.usercentrics+1

You are not required to provide this information, and you can delete or edit it at any time within the App where functionality allows.

3. Purposes and Legal Bases for Processing

Where GDPR/UK GDPR applies, we must identify a legal basis for processing your personal data. We process your data for the following purposes and legal bases:usercentrics+1

- To create and manage your account, provide core App functionality, and maintain the Service
 - Legal basis: Performance of a contract (Article 6(1)(b) GDPR).
- To personalize your experience, including recommendations, plans, and insights based on your dietary logs, fitness logs, journal entries, and prayer entries
 - Legal basis: Your consent (Article 6(1)(a)), and our legitimate interests in improving user experience (Article 6(1)(f)).
- To provide spiritual, physical, mental, and social growth tools, including challenges, devotionals, tracking features, reminders, and encouragement
 - Legal basis: Your explicit consent for special category data where applicable (Article 9(2)(a) GDPR), and performance of a contract.
- To facilitate community features (groups, messaging, accountability partners, and events) where you choose to participate
 - Legal basis: Performance of a contract and your consent where you share additional data.
- To communicate with you via email and in-app notifications about your account, security alerts, updates, and support
 - Legal basis: Performance of a contract and our legitimate interests in operating the Service.

- To send you optional inspirational content or marketing communications (where permitted)
 - Legal basis: Your consent, or our legitimate interests where applicable under U.S. law; you may opt out at any time.
- To analyze, maintain, secure, and improve the App (including troubleshooting, analytics, and feature development)
 - Legal basis: Our legitimate interests in improving and securing our Service.
- To comply with legal obligations, enforce our terms, and protect our rights, our users, or others
 - Legal basis: Compliance with legal obligations and our legitimate interests.

Where we rely on consent, you may withdraw it at any time without affecting the lawfulness of processing before withdrawal.

4. How We Share Your Information

We do not sell your personal information.

We may share your data only in the following limited circumstances:

- Service providers (processors): We share information with trusted third-party vendors who perform services on our behalf (for example, hosting, analytics, email delivery, customer support, and payment processing). These providers are bound by contracts that require them to protect your data and only use it as instructed by us, consistent with GDPR/UK GDPR requirements.
- Other users (by your choice): When you participate in groups, challenges, posts, or messaging, certain information (such as your name, username, profile image, and any content you voluntarily share) is visible to other users. Your private dietary logs, fitness logs, journal entries, and prayer entries stay private unless you explicitly choose to share them using App features.
- Legal and safety: We may disclose information if required by law, court order, or governmental request, or if we believe it is necessary to protect the rights, property, or safety of Huddle, our users, or others, or to detect, prevent, or address fraud, security, or technical issues.
- Business transfers: In connection with a merger, acquisition, reorganization, or sale of assets, your information may be transferred as part of that transaction, subject to this Privacy Policy or a similar policy that provides equal or greater protection.

5. International Data Transfers

We may process and store your personal data in countries outside of your country of residence, including the United States. If you are located in the EU/EEA or UK, and your data is transferred outside that region, we will ensure appropriate safeguards are in place, such as:

- Transferring to countries recognized as providing an adequate level of data protection, or
- Using standard contractual clauses (SCCs) or equivalent mechanisms approved by the European Commission or UK authorities.

You may contact us for more information on the safeguards we use for international transfers.

6. Data Retention

We retain your personal data, including dietary logs, fitness logs, journal entries, prayer entries, and email information, for as long as:

- Your account is active, or
- It is reasonably necessary to provide the Service, fulfill the purposes described in this Policy, comply with legal obligations, resolve disputes, and enforce our agreements.

When you request account deletion or when we no longer need your data, we will either delete or anonymize it, unless we are legally required or permitted to keep certain data for longer.

7. Your Rights

Depending on where you live and applicable law, you may have some or all of the following rights:

- Right of access: To obtain confirmation whether we process your personal data and request a copy.
- Right to rectification: To correct or update inaccurate or incomplete data.
- Right to erasure (“right to be forgotten”): To request deletion of your personal data in certain circumstances.
- Right to restriction: To request that we limit how we process your data in certain situations.
- Right to object: To object to processing based on our legitimate interests or for direct marketing.
- Right to data portability: To receive your personal data in a structured, commonly used, and machine-readable format and to request transfer to another controller where technically feasible.

- Right to withdraw consent: Where we rely on consent or explicit consent (for example, for special category data such as your spiritual reflections or health-related logs), you may withdraw it at any time.

You can exercise many of these rights within the App (for example, by updating or deleting your logs and entries, changing settings, or requesting account deletion). You can also contact us using the details in the “Contact Us” section.

If you are in the EU/EEA or UK, you also have the right to lodge a complaint with your local data protection authority.

8. Your Rights Under U.S. State Laws

Depending on your U.S. state of residence (for example, California, Virginia, Colorado, Connecticut), you may have additional privacy rights, such as the right to:

- Know what categories of personal information we collect, use, and disclose.
- Request access to and deletion of certain personal information.
- Opt out of certain types of data sharing or targeted advertising (note: we do not sell personal data).

We will honor applicable state privacy rights requests consistent with relevant state laws. To exercise these rights, please contact us using the details below and indicate your state of residence.

9. Children’s Privacy

Huddle is intended for adult men and is not directed to children. We do not knowingly collect personal data from individuals under the age of 18 (or the minimum age in your jurisdiction). If we learn that we have collected personal data from a minor without appropriate consent, we will take steps to delete it.

10. Security

We use appropriate technical and organizational measures designed to protect your personal data—including dietary logs, fitness logs, journal entries, prayer entries, and email—from unauthorized access, use, or disclosure, consistent with industry standards and GDPR/UK GDPR principles. However, no method of transmission or storage is completely secure, and we cannot guarantee absolute security.

You are responsible for keeping your account credentials confidential and for all activities that occur under your account.

11. Third-Party Links and Services

The App may contain links to third-party websites, content, or services that we do not control. This Privacy Policy does not apply to those third-party services. We encourage you to review the privacy policies of any third-party sites or services you visit or use.

12. Changes to This Privacy Policy

We may update this Privacy Policy from time to time to reflect changes in our practices, legal requirements, or for other operational reasons. When we make changes, we will update the “Last updated” date at the top. For material changes, we may provide additional notice (such as in-App notifications or email). Your continued use of the App after the updated Policy becomes effective means you accept the changes.

13. Contact Us

If you have questions about this Privacy Policy, our data practices, or your rights, please contact us at:

Holy Impact Publishing / The Huddle App
Email: holyimpactmovement@gmail.com

If you are in the EU/EEA or UK and are not satisfied with our response, you have the right to lodge a complaint with your local supervisory authority.
